

territory and is largely interested in the lumber concerns, one of these being the Rio Grande Lumber company in the Duke City. Mr. Dow, who carries on the local business, is connected with many interests in Estancia, being a director of the Estancia Trust and Savings bank, and a stockholder in the local telephone company. He is also treasurer of the Methodist church of Estancia and an active Mason. The company lends its influence freely to the upbuilding of the town and its owners are enthusiastic in their belief in its future growth and development.

THE ROMERO BROTHERS.
The learned professions have also done their share in the upbuilding of the valley city and have all along been keeping step with the town's phenomenal march. To the front. Every branch of professional life is already represented, several of these by more than one person. One of the most prominent members of the professional community is one of Albuquerque's former citizens, Dr. F. B. Romero. The doctor since coming here has identified himself closely with the numerous progressive measures which have been from time to time inaugurated and has from the first taken an active part in local politics. In this line of activity he has been joined by his brother, Miguel A. Romero, who on the first of last July was made postmaster of the town. The Romeros began buying property here soon after their arrival and are now the owners of several choice lots on the main street, every one of which they are improving. Dr. Romero has already erected several substantial buildings, notable among which is the present handsome postoffice and the building occupied by the Romero Meat & Supply company, which concerns are also owned by him. These progressive young men are the sons and only remaining children of Benigno Romero and Guadalupe Ortega de Romero, both of whom are at present residents of Albuquerque and they have every reason to feel proud of their antecedents who have for so many years been prominent in territorial affairs. It will be remembered that the father, Benigno Romero, was the man who donated to the territory the five acres of valuable ground on which the present territorial insane asylum is located at Las Vegas, an act of generosity which was recognized by the legislature in its special act of acceptance and through the appointment of Mr. Romero as one of the original directors of the institution, a position which he ably filled for a period of ten successive years. Both the Romero brothers received liberal education, the doctor having in his youth attended the Jesuit college and the Las Vegas academy from which he graduated in 1893. He received his medical training at the St. Louis Medical college and later supplemented this with a post graduate course in the Philadelphia Polyclinic hospital. The postmaster, Miguel A. Romero, was an attendant first at the Las Vegas school of the Christian Brothers and later completed his education in the Normal college in that city. The Romero brothers like all of the individuals named in this article are constant boosters of Estancia's interests and are at present active in the organization of a Catholic church for the town.

THE VALLEY HOTEL.
No line of business responds so quickly to the propinquity and development of a community as does that of the hotel proprietor, and if the volume of business at present being done in Estancia by the various hotels and restaurants is a criterion, it is continually increasing. The Valley hotel is the principal hostelry of the town. It is a substantial and comfortable building, containing bedrooms and the usual accessories in the way of accommodations for travelers. On the day of the writer's arrival, the house fed in the neighborhood of fifty guests. The proprietors were obliged to send to other house several guests who made applications for rooms. The hotel is kept by Mr. and Mrs. H. Averill, the management being in charge of the latter. Mr. and Mrs. Averill came to Estancia from Texas in 1902, and Mr. Averill took up a claim about half mile west of the town. To this he has given most of his attention as a result of which it now ranks as one of the best in the valley. He is at present employed in improving this property on which during the coming summer he expects to construct a new and substantial residence. Already he has made a notable success in the character of the products of his farm and he is now arranging for a system of irrigation to supplement that from the windmill and gasoline pump at present installed on the place. The success which Mrs. Averill has made with the Valley hotel is a phenomenal one, notwithstanding which she has found time to help in all public enterprises, especially in the construction of the new Methodist church, in aid of which she has freely given of her time and means. Such are a few only of the people who have been foremost in the creation of the first town of the valley. Instances might be indefinitely continued, but the facts are sufficient to illustrate the character and caliber of the new community.

STANLEY IS RAPIDLY GROWING VALLEY TOWN.
It is Well Situated and Has Opportunities Possessed by Few of Its Neighbors.

Stanley, N. M., Oct. 24.—At the very gateway of the great Estancia valley the town of Stanley is getting its full share of the phenomenal growth of the whole region. Last April there were only three windmills dotting the country visible from the townsite, whereas now there are 50 houses in the range of vision, 200 people living in the town of Stanley.

SUCCESS

THEY SAY NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS. I SUPPOSE THIS IS TRUE. BUT IN ORDER TO HAVE SOME SUCCESS WITH WHICH TO SUCCEED IT IS NECESSARY TO HAVE SOME OTHER THINGS. ONE OF THESE IS BRAINS, AND ANOTHER IS SOME MONEY. WE DO NOT FURNISH BRAINS IN SETS, BUT A PERUSAL OF OUR COLUMNS WILL SHINE UP THE ONES YOU HAVE, AND AN ADVERTISEMENT IN THE EVENING CITIZEN WILL GO A LONG WAY TOWARDS SUPPLYING THE DINERO.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

The ills peculiar to women, take different forms. Some ladies suffer, every month, from dark rings round their eyes, blotches on their skin and tired feeling. Others suffer agonies of pain, that words can hardly express. Whatever the symptoms, remember there is one medicine that will go beyond mere symptoms, and act on the cause of their troubles, the weakened womanly organs.

Wine of Cardui

Mrs. M. C. Austin, of Memphis, Tenn., writes: "For five (5) years I suffered with every symptom of female disease, but after using the well-known Cardui Home Treatment, I was entirely well."
